This course will cover the fundamentals of Crew Leadership. Small group-interactive classroom setting

This 15-hour course is designed to assist the recently promoted crew leader and others in construction management roles to be more effective managers.

Often construction employees are promoted to crew leader positions as a result of being high-performers in their craft, but yet have little management training . . . To be a crew leader in today's construction industry, it is essential to be well-prepared. To become an effective crew leader, there are specific job skills that you must learn in order to do the job well. . . This course will teach you the skills you need to be an effective leader, including the ability to communicate effectively; provide direction to your crew; ensure a safe workplace, coach workers on their role in profit/productivity, and plan and schedule the work of your crew. . . For a list of course objectives, e-mail marilyn@mcef.net or call 601-605-2989.
